It is harvested with our own machine, which means we can do it at the appropriate time of maturation and overnight with lower temperatures. All the grapes harvested passes through the selection table and then are transferred into small capacity tanks for fermentation. We make two "remontados" and two "delestages" (technical operations in the winery to improve fermentation) daily during fermentation for enhanced extraction of color and aromas. Once finished alcoholic fermentation, the following operation is made unpressed and are passed to barrels where the malolactic fermentation it takes place and is aged for 12 months in French and American oak.
